

FIFTEEN ARSENAL BOOSTERS NAMED

Committee Will Hold Initial Session Tonight to Plan Campaign for Recognition.

WILL SET A DATE FOR DISSESS

Congressmen and Senators of Illinois, Iowa and Neighboring States to Be Guests.

All of the members of the committee of fifteen, composed of prominent boosters from Davenport, Rock Island, Moline, East Moline and Bettendorf, have been named to push the campaign for increased appropriations for the Rock Island arsenal, in order that it may become the largest munition plant in the country. Those composing the committee are:

Davenport—E. P. Adler, A. F. Dawson, I. C. Norwood.
Rock Island—Hugh E. Curtis, F. C. Denkmann, W. H. McCombs.
Moline—Dr. W. E. Taylor, W. J. Ball, Emil Johnson.

East Moline—A. B. Johnson, E. T. Taylor, G. L. Rowe.
Bettendorf—J. W. Bettendorf, H. F. Abrahamson, W. O. Calvert.

The committee will hold its initial meeting this evening at the Davenport Commercial club for the purpose of outlining the big campaign which is to be waged. The first move will be the naming of a date for a friendly banquet at which time the entire congressional delegations from Illinois, Iowa and surrounding states will be guests.

To Show Possibilities.

It is hoped in this way to bring to the attention of members of congress the importance of the Rock Island arsenal and its claim for larger recognition. It is proposed that a trip be taken to the arsenal for the purpose of giving the visitors first hand information regarding the institution and its possibilities. Because of its acreage, buildings, waterpower and location, the Rock Island arsenal is prominently suited for development.

Limited Repertory.

Uncle Shadrach had been given the job of pumping the organ in his church for a score of years. A new organ had come and a member of the church asked Uncle Shadrach what he thought of the new organ.

"Well, sah," answered Uncle Shadrach, "An' I don't see how it can be any better than the old one."—New York Post.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

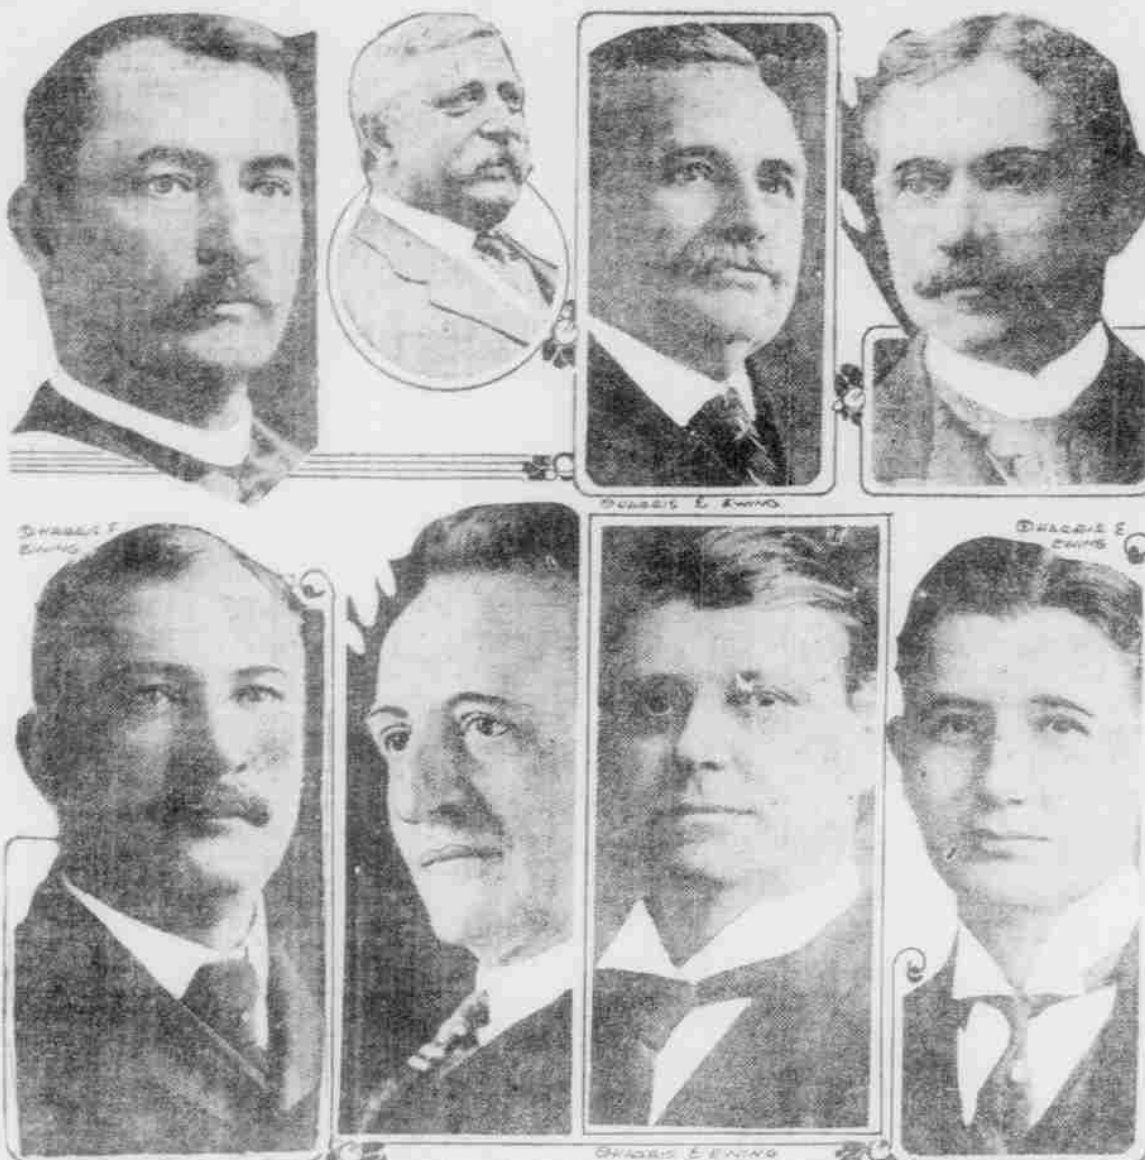

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

HEAD OF EVERY COMMITTEE TO COME FROM SOUTH

Washington, Sept. 27.—The south is at last in full control of the lower house of congress. The state of committee chairmanships, as already tentatively made up, leaves the north, the middle west, and the Pacific coast states absolutely without representation.

Official Washington based this week with exceptional interest that a most determined fight is to be made to compel the Democratic house caucus to waive the rule of priority and length of service, which the southern Democrats have obtained, and to elect the chairmanship of the appropriations committee, and the control of the purse strings will be in the hands of the south.

The need of a distribution of the chairmanships along the country-wide rather than a regional basis, which it has been hoped, has been placed before President Wilson.

The president has been told that the welfare of the country is jeopardized by the fact that a southern Democratic is now in this for the control through the chairmanship of every important committee in the house.

The president's aid is being brought to the campaign to force an election of the chairmanships along geographical lines.

The seriousness of the situation was brought vividly to the attention of President Wilson and his advisers in the executive departments of the government, as well as to members of the new congress from the southern states, by the recent nomination of Representative John J. Fitzgerald of New York for a New York state judgeship.

Under the rules, whether have been practiced in the house for years, the chairmanship of the appropriations committee would pass to Representative Jim Swanwick of Kentucky, ranking member of the appropriations committee, and the control of the purse strings will be in the hands of the south.

After the first session of the new house of representatives was inaugurated by a caucus from the floor of the house by Representative Fitzgerald on his democratic colleague from the south.

The argument was made against their way of appropriating vast sums of money through their control of the appropriations committee.

What further rebuke complicated as they have been in years and the question of national defense and other distinctly national problems to the fact, the feeling is strong that every section of the country should be represented on the life committee that will have no largely to do with the shaping of legislation.

The question of legislation also enters the problem. The southern control of chairmanships, indeed, it is broken, means that in the next session the course of legislation will be dictated by a group of members representing approximately one-sixth of the population of the country.

The list of chairmen of the new house who will go into office unless the shift is broken is as follows:

Agriculture, James T. Lloyd, Missouri; agriculture, A. L. Lever, South Carolina; banking and currency, Carter Glass, Virginia; census, Harvey Helen, Kentucky; claims, Edward W. Pott, North Carolina; district of Columbia, Ben Johnston, Kentucky; education, Dudley M. Hughes, Georgia; elections, William W. Barker, Missouri; foreign affairs, Henry D. Flood, Virginia; immigration and naturalization, John L. Burnett, Alabama; Indian affairs, John H. Stephens, Texas; insular affairs, William A. Jones, Virginia; interstate and foreign commerce, W. C. Adamsen, Georgia; judiciary, E. V. Webb, North Carolina; labor, David J. Cowan, Maryland; merchant marine and fisheries, J. W. Alexander, Missouri.

Military affairs, James Hay, Virginia; naval affairs, L. E. Padgett, Tennessee; patents, W. A. Oldfield, Arkansas; postoffice and postroads, John A. Mann, Tennessee; public buildings and grounds, Frank Clark, Florida; public lands, Scott Perry, Oklahoma; rivers and harbors, S. M. Sparksman, Florida; roads, Dorsey W. Shackelford, Missouri; territories, William C. Houston, Tennessee; ways and means, Claude Kitchin, North Carolina.

blowing their resources, it soon millions given to monuments, museums
and projects of doubtful and remote value and think of the great need of cesses, housing, maternity hospitals, orphanages and nurseries and shelters
for homeless men and homes for friendless girls, which is sadly neglected at this age. It sees the carelessly spent dollars of the pampered
youth and thinks of the starving families in the basements and other boxes, rank, damp and unsanitary, where children are reared in these homes of aqualor!

It sees the waste food from the tables of the over-fed and thinks of the invaluable crying for the moral which poverty denies.

It sees money lavished on pleasures
and thinks of children who have never known the meaning of play or prayer, nor seen the open country,
baby fingers picking out last-
threads 10 hours a day with no time
for the simplest of toys.

The Salvation Army lifts its voice
to God, who knows the secrets of all hearts, understands the springs of all
action and cries out for "money" to help carry forward its great work for the uplifting of these unfortunates into the sunlight of a better day and into the hope of immortality which alone
makes hard lives seem worth while.

These conditions must be remedied by some one, and of course, the Salvation Army is expected by the public to look after them, which is always done willingly when it has the finance so to do, or the necessary food
in the cupboard, which it has to divide with these many people many times. Any one wishing to contribute to the work, or help in this great cause for the Master, can do so by conferring with the commanding officer, Captain P. M. Haynes, 800 Twenty-
first street, or telephone Rock Island
